

K Means Clustering

01 November 2025 08:23

- ① Randomly picked the no. of centroids based on the value of K .
- ② Calculate the distance of each point to the centroids [Euclidean Distance]^(both)
- ③ The datapoint will belong to the cluster whose centroid is near to it.
- ④ Update the centroid position through the mean of the datapoints that belong to the cluster.